

Code of Conduct

As a partner and participant in my child's classroom and school communities, in using Edvoice to communicate, connect, and contribute, I pledge to adhere to the following Community Agreements.

As I am a Edvoice user by invitation of my child's classroom teacher, I understand that, failing to adhere to the Edvoice Community Agreements, may result in my being asked to leave the network of parent-teacher-students partners to which I belong.

Edvoice is a positive forum. I agree to respect the Teacher's Edvoice groups conversations, contributing in a polite and positive manner. I will refrain from sharing hurtful or unsubstantiated information.

Assume good intentions. Thank people for their efforts and contributions - before asking them to change or improve something.

Present personal concerns to your child's teacher, directly and privately - without informing, enlisting or involving other parents or staff.

Address the issue with the school administrator if the problem persists.
